The Future of Old Age

A society is judged by how it treats its older people.
How are we doing?

This DVD Resource showing how today's young citizen lives in the shadow of the demographic time-bomb. Is this something to be feared or an opportunity to be seized?

The Future of Old Age examines our often contradictory attitudes to age and aging. This video pack is designed for the Citizenship curriculum and for PSHE and Moral Studies. Here's a chance to look at older people close up, through their own eyes and through the eyes of teenagers. The results will surprise you!

The questions they ask include:

- What do the young think about the old?
- Older people want respect. Do they deserve it?
- Would you have your parents living with you?
- What happens when the generations meet?
- Who should look after old people?
- What is 'old' anyway?

*An 18 page Briefing is included on the DVD.
You can view it and print off the pages you want

The Future of Old Age

DVD RESOURCE

With nearly a quarter of the population over sixty and life expectancy increasing, old age is on the agenda. Are today's teenagers up to the challenge?

PART 1: Old Age

- The Demographic Timebomb: Portrait of old age with facts, figures and myths.
- Old Age: A look at old age through the eyes of older people and teenagers. 'I'm dreading it' observes Hassan. 'They're just like us, just a little older' says Jamie.
- Who Should Look After Older People? An intimate examination of young people's views about care and responsibility for older people in a 'post Welfare State' world.
- A Sense of Loss: A group of Asian elders speak passionately about the generation gap and decline of family responsibility for the old.
- The Old Versus the Young: Older people complain about the loss of respect. Youngsters are bemused. 'Why should the young respect their elders?' asks Tony Benn. 'Have they earned it?'
- When Generations Meet: Intergenerational projects in the community are bringing younger people face to face with their elders. Who gains?

'You might live to be a hundred. You'd better be prepared' warns Colin, a pensioner who's returned to work. With more older people in the population, what state are they in?

PART 2: The State of Old Age

- Back to Work: Two people who retired and then started again give their reasons.
- Keeping Up: A cyber cafe run by a local school for the over 60s is over subscribed. Pupils and their 'senior' students have surprised each other.
- New Things to Do: Shattering stereotypes – 'Silver Sounds' is a drum band that's toured Europe and 'Hotwells Panto' has transformed the local community. Images of older people in action.
- Hundred Years of Solitude: Loneliness is the scourge of old age. A Forum for Seniors and retired MP Tony Benn raise the social and political issues.
- Secrets and Lives: An intimate, surprising and highly amusing portrait of later life. Life certainly goes on.
