"This is an excellent video, ideal for PSE lessons and very timely. ... it should provide spiritual, moral and social development within a school to gladden the heart of an OFSTED inspection team."

THE SCHOOL LIBRARIAN

why protest? DVD

Four 6th form students investigate the rights of citizens to protest in a democratic society.

Filmed at the Faslane nuclear submarine base, the students look in depth at a protest by groups campaigning for Britain to disarm its nuclear deterrent. The students were given unprecedented access to talk to all sides involved in this protest: the protesters, the police, the commodore of the base, politicians and the media.

The questions they ask include:

- Do protests change anything?
- Are politicians influenced by protests?
- What is the effect on those being protested against?
- Should protests be curtailed or restricted?
- How does the media report protests?
- What is the role of peaceful protest in a democratic society?
